

About the Speaker

Although she has been quilting since the 1990's, Kimm Murray waited until 2014 to join the AQG Night Owls and considers it the "best quilting decision" she ever made. Within a year, she volunteered for the AQG Board of Directors and served four years as the Newsletter Editor, WebMaster, and Communications Director. During this time, she also served in a variety of capacities on the Quilt Show Committee. Over the years, she has learned about many aspects of the quilt show, and finally became the Entry Coordinator in 2021.

Kimm seeks to share her passion about the important, and frequently misunderstood, role of Certified Judges at quilt shows: their presence elevates the event to more than just a public Show & Tell session, and ultimately improve the artform.
