Taking Personal Pictures

Photographs may be taken at the show for your personal use and enjoyment. Photos are not to be used for any commercial purpose. Photographing all or a significant number of the quilt entries is prohibited. If you post the photos to your personal website or social media page, you must include appropriate credit for each quilt artist, and note that the photos were taken at the Arizona Quilters Guild, Quilt Arizona! show. Photos may not be posted on any website where the images can be used on items that may be purchased, such as T-shirts, mugs, note cards, etc. Do not take pictures of any quilts hanging in vendor booths without first receiving permission from the vendor. Please be responsible in your use of the quilt photographs and help us protect the rights of the quiltmakers.

Taking a Bus to the Show

We welcome and encourage Bus and Group Tours on all days of the Quilt Arizona! Show.

This is a great opportunity for quilt groups, guilds, and shops to add an activity/event to their own calendar. The bus delivers attendees to the show fresh and ready to enjoy the beautiful quilts and shop the wide variety of vendors. Informative lectures provide an opportunity to rest those feet a bit, then enjoy a light lunch or snack in the outdoor dining area. No parking worries. No waiting in line!

Additional benefits: A special area has been reserved for easy bus drop-off and pick-up.

Buses will be greeted by an AQG representative upon arrival to receive entry wrist bands and show programs before entering the show floor. No need to stand in line to enter the show!

Please remember NO food or beverages allowed inside the show building.

We know it's hard to pull yourself away from all those awesome quilts and booths filled with goodies. For your convenience, we have arranged for some food selections to be available at the Convention Center.
